API Implementation Guidelines

Ed-Fi REST API implementations typically require features for authentication and authorization, non-repudiation, optimistic concurrency, web cache validation, and bulk operations. Guidelines for implementation of those features are provided in this section.

This section covers the following topics in detail: